HAVANA CLUBS.

HAVANA CLUBS.

HAVANA is perhaps the only city in the world where poor men have more elaborate clubs thus the rich ones.

If you go to the Union club in Harma, which is a typical downtown club for Spaniards of some wealth and position, you see very plain chairs and tables. The club occupies no special building of its own, but merely some young over a business establishment, Here dignified Spaniards discuss politics and play guide games.

Very different is the 'Coofro Gallego' or Gallegan club, which was founded by Spaniards, from the province of Gallegan club, which was founded by Spaniards, from the province of Gallegan club, which was founded by Spaniards, from the province of Gallegan club, which was founded by Spaniards, from the province of Gallegan club, which was formed to the province of Gallegan club, which was formed to the series of whom are laborers and artisans.
